Leak Control System

LEAK CONTROL INNOVATION

Smart Protection Where You Need it Most

The Leak Control Box is a breakthrough solution designed to safeguard your in-wall tapware installation. Made from durable ABS, this enclosure protects the valve body and plumbing inside the wall cavity — a hidden layer of defence that ensures lasting performance and structural integrity.

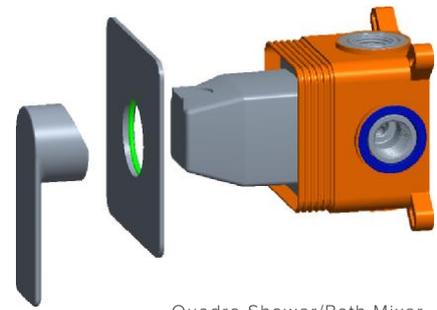

- Prevents water damage — captures and channels any leaks away from the wall cavity, protecting framing and linings.
- Stops mould and dampness — eliminates moisture build-up behind walls for a healthier home.
- Peace of mind — trusted by homeowners, builders, and plumbers for long-term reliability.
- Simplifies installation - features a protective plastic cover to shield tapware valve bodies and a built-in level to ensure accurate, hassle-free positioning for plumbers and builders.

How it Works

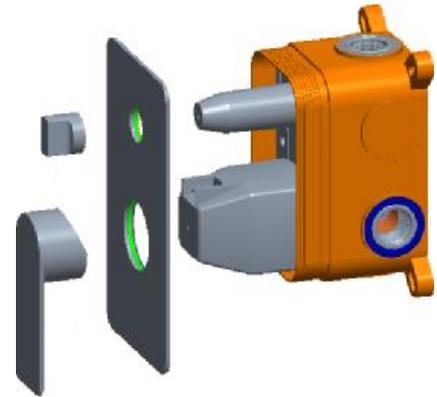

Out of Sight - But Always on Guard

In the unlikely event of a leak occurring the Leak Control Box contains the water, preventing it from reaching the surrounding structure. The contained water can then be directed to a visible area or drain, ensuring early detection and simple maintenance.

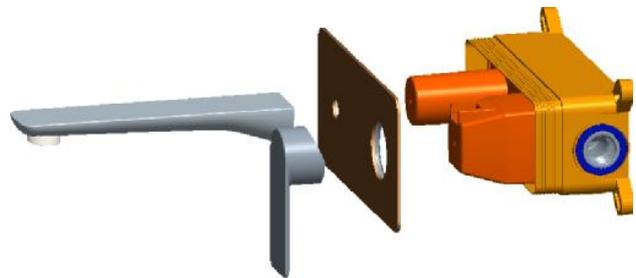

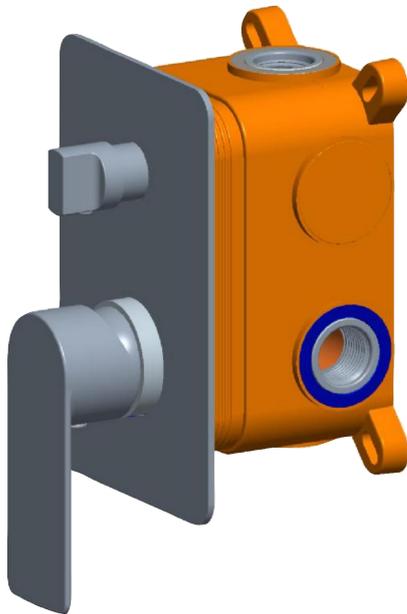

Discreetly installed behind your Quadro in-wall tapware, the Leak Control Box provides an invisible safeguard that protects your investment, your home, and your health.
